GRANTS

The Pence Gallery had three grant projects that it facilitated over the year to strengthen its ties to the community and offer additional opportunities for visitors to learn more about the arts.

The Make Stuff grant included five education programs for children and adults that emphasized engaged learning, led by professional artists. Our Teens Take Charge program for the fifth year in a row offered local teens experience in developing an event for youth, information on art careers, and the chance to build a collaborative public art sculpture. During the spring, the Pence also facilitated a grant project called Artistic Legacy that created a series of programs in conjunction with our Bay Area Clay exhibit, which served to expand the community's knowledge of how numerous regional artists have used ceramic sculpture as a form of political and social critique.

FISCAL OVERVIEW OF INCOME & EXPENSES

Sources of revenue and expenses are depicted in the charts below.

ATTENDANCE & PROGRAMS OFFERED

The Pence served 18,514 people onsite and offsite, through gallery visits, outreach festivals, and events. In our youth programs, we served 1,372 students, parents and teachers. Through the Teens Take Charge program, ten local teens participated in a four-month program to learn about art careers, and how to develop a community event for teen audiences. We facilitated a diverse range of hands-on art workshops, talks, and demonstrations for 679 adults.

Through our ambitious exhibit program, we offered 408 artists an opportunity to exhibit in solo and group exhibits. This year, we had 437 people renew their membership to the Pence.

Thank you to our members, sponsors, businesses and foundations that have provided support for the Pence Gallery over the past year. We appreciate your help in allowing us to serve the community through the arts!
